Holiday of Love

by Kayla Perrin

A Holiday of Love is a collection of romantic short stories written by Jude Deveraux, Arnette Lamb, and Jill Barnett. These authors are known for their historical romance novels, and their works are often set in different time periods around the world. The stories included in this anthology are:

- Change of Heart by Jill Barnett
- Miracles by Judith McNaught
- Daniel and the Angel by Arnette Lamb
- Hark! The Herald Angels Sing by Jill Barnett

These stories explore themes of love and adventure, set in various historical contexts. The characters face challenges and obstacles as they navigate their paths towards finding love. The anthology is available in various formats, including paperback and digital editions. It is a great read for fans of historical romance who enjoy stories that transport them to different eras.