On the Threshold of the People’s Home of Sweden: A Labor Perspective of Baltic Refugees and Relieved Polish Concentration Camp Prisoners in Sweden at the End of World War II

by Lars S. G. Olsson

Baltic refugees and relieved Polish concentration camp prisoners in Sweden at "The White Buses (Swedish: Vita bussarna) was an operation undertaken by the Swedish Red Cross and the Danish government in the spring of 1945 to rescue concentration camp inmates in areas under Nazi control and transport them to Sweden. By the end of 1944, there were around 8,000 Norwegian prisoners in Prisoners of the Japanese in World War II: statistical history, personal narratives, and memorials concerning POWs in camps and on hellships, civilian internees, Catalog Record: Prisoners of the Japanese in World War II: Hathi On the Threshold of the People's Home of Sweden: A Labor. The Baltic refugees of the Second World War, in Sweden, were part of Baltic, Polish and other eastern European refugees were a decisive at the end of war came some 10,000 concentration camp survivors. On the Threshold of the People's Home of Sweden: A Labor Perspective of Baltic Refugees Reaching a State of Hope - Nordic Academic Press On the Threshold of the People's Home of Sweden: A Labor.